

Useful tips for Group Tarot Readings

Thank you for choosing me to read Tarot for you.

I have provided lots of Group Tarot Readings over the years and I have put together some helpful tips so that you and your guests can make the most of the evening.

You may have hosted a Tarot evening before with someone else, but please be aware that Tarot Readers are individuals and each has a unique style.

You may find my style very different to any previous experience with other Psychics / Tarot Readers etc.

As a general guide I will work for an evening based on 3 hours (unless otherwise agreed). For your guests to make the most of their readings please have them be aware of the change over time, where one reading ends and the person leaves to allow the next guest to start their reading.

If a reading has been particularly interesting it is only natural that your guest may want to discuss or explain certain points to me at its conclusion. Please be aware that each guest has an agreed duration for the reading and this time constraint does not allow for it to be extended as this would impact on everyone else. I am always willing to take up where I left off if your guest would like to make a private 1-2-1 appointment with me at a later date to continue.

To make the most of your reading please approach it with an open mind and a willingness to be involved. I endeavour to give everyone a detailed and accurate reading and I offer my service in the true spirit of friendship and with kindness.

I do not advertise myself as a 'medium', in general I do not communicate directly (like Psychic Sally, John Edwards etc.) with those who have passed over. I do believe we all have a Guardian who seeks to show us the way through life, this may or may not be a relative who has passed over. When I interpret the Tarot for you, I endeavour to deliver a message for you from a higher source that will give you a positive direction and focus.

If you have any particular concerns, please voice them clearly. To get the most from your reading in a group setting operating within a timed session, I need to zero in on your particular concerns if you have any. Many people make this mistake and tell me that they would like to know more about a particular topic only when the reading is over! If only they had been upfront I could have spent most of the time exploring a particular issue to a satisfying conclusion for them.

Some guests will genuinely not be able to voice anything specific, this is OK, I will guide them to help get the best from the reading.

Be honest, be open and lets work together to get the most of your time with me, my aim is to give you a positive experience with information that is relevant.

I am happy to provide spiritual advice on such topics as 'health' and 'finance', but this must be understood that I am not qualified as a health or financial professional. (UK law requires I state this clearly).

It is advised that you have a private area for me to conduct the readings, this is useful for me to concentrate but sometimes a reading may touch upon sensitive issues that your guest would perhaps like to keep to themselves.

I always bring my 'reading table' and a chair just in case, so don't worry if you think you may not have a suitable table.

If you have booked me through an agency you will have paid a deposit to 'the agency' and this generally acts as their commission.

My fee for the evening is independent of that. I really appreciate having my fee paid upfront on arrival. If you can make an arrangement for this with your guests that would be good. It really avoids any messing about with handing over money and giving change etc. during the proceedings.

Should there be any additional guest readings on the night please let me beforehand.

To put your mind at ease I will mention that on very rare occasions I will encounter someone who I either cannot connect with, or for some reason unknown is not meant to have a reading.

Strange things may happen that prevent an individual from getting information from the Tarot.

In such an instance I will waive my fee and issue them a refund; however an agency fee may not be recoverable. I may offer an alternative type of reading if I think it is appropriate, or a private sitting at a more spiritually favourable time. There is a time and place for everything?

Everything happens in 'good time', but sometimes it can be the 'wrong' time, and information is not forthcoming for an individual.

I take into account travel time and allow for reasonable traffic 'situations' as best I can. If however I encounter problems on route I will endeavour to let you know via the contact number you have provided.

I hope you have found this guide helpful. If you are able please print it out to hand round for your guests to read on the evening (or email / text it ?)

If you have any further questions please don't hesitate to ask.

Best Wishes and see you soon.
